Buick Agencies Start Year With Record Sales

For the first three weeks of the new automobile season of 1928, the Buick agency in the upper San Gabriel valley has a cash turnover of $82,875 for new and used cars, a record not reached by any agency of the past, according to Irven G. Reynolds, Buick agent. The agency is the largest handler of automobiles in the valley, having recently added to its territory under the direction of Mr. Reynolds.

With the acquisition of new territory the Buick agency now covers Covina, El Monte, Puente, Baldwin Park, Irwindale, Azusa, Glendora, Charter Oak and Walnut, Mr. Reynolds said. Show rooms are established at Covina, Puente, Azusa and El Monte.

No automobile agency in the valley has grown with such a consistent upward trend as has been the case with the Buick, which was taken over thirteen years ago by Mr. Reynolds. It is recognized as having a greater sales turnover than any other territory of its kind in California. Mr. Reynolds is known everywhere in the valley, not only as a business man, but because of his interest in the progress of the valley. He has surrounded himself with men who are known for their ability in the automobile world. J. R. Cannon, for many years a prominent figure in the automobile business, is his resident agent at El Monte, where fine show rooms have been established. Mr. Cannon also attends to the Puente territory. In Azusa and Glendora, Kort Meier is the resident agent, and in Covina,

Elder Resigns as Pastor of Christian Church

Rev. George G. Elder read his resignation from the pulpit last Sunday, to take effect the first of October. Rev. Elder has been anxious to get into the evangelistic work for some time and resigned two years ago for this purpose, but was induced by the church to reconsider.

Rev. Elder came to California from Colorado, where he served his first and only charge for six years. He took up the work at Whittier and during his three-year pastorate the church erected a beautiful church building. From Whittier, Rev. Elder came to Covina and will leave the congregation one of the most active in the San Gabriel valley. He is building on ranch property at Baldwin Park, expecting to make his home there while engaged in evangelistic work.

New Residence Being Completed in Adams Park

The latest home in Adams tract, the fine residential district of Covina, is just being completed by Mrs. A. S. Wilson and her daughters. The floor plan of the house is just a little unusual, the distinctively English livingroom, with its circular window, occupying the west ell. The diningroom, in the center of the house, opens into a cozy breakfast room on the east. Barrel ceilings in living and dining rooms, with hand decorations, give a spacious atmosphere, the open fireplace in the living room adding the touch of warmth.

The kitchen is done in tones of green, with every modern convenience. Two bedrooms face the south, a third one, located on the west side of the house, looking toward Hollenbeck street. The exterior is stucco, trimmed with red brick. Red tile circular steps lead from the front doors into a small patio.

Mrs. Wilson and her daughters came to Covina from Azusa, where they have resided for many years. Edward F. Hubbard is the builder.

Alaskan Trip Told Before Rotary Club

Covina Rotarians were given a splendid Alaska vacation by proxy at the noon luncheon yesterday, when William M. Warren told of the trip he has just completed with his family to this land that is perhaps less intimately known than any of the territory under the jurisdiction of the American flag.

Mr. Warren entertained with an exceptionally fine word picture of the scenery, of the industries, the agricultural and mining, and of the wild life of this country one-fifth as large as the United States, and with a population of less than half of such a city as San Diego.

A visitor from a distance was Horace Clark, national organizer for building and loan association, who is enroute to points in Washington and Oregon.

A local member present after an absence of some time, Mr. J. H. Griffith, who with his wife and son has been motoring through the east and Quebec. The party covered over 9000 miles in their Buick car. During their entire trip they experienced no mechanical troubles and only two punctures. They were delighted with their trip through eastern Canada.

Magan Building in San Jose Hills

Dr. W. P. Magan has just started the construction of a $20,000 home in the San Jose hills south of Covina. The plans were drawn by Myron Hunt, one of the leading architects in the southland. A. W. Feist is the contractor.

Mr. Guy Harris is also laying the foundation for a $15,000 residence in the Adams Park tract, between the homes of Irven Reynolds and Thos. Finch. The structure will be a two-story English type.

MEXICAN COUPLE WEDDED AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

A wedding of interest to the Mexican colony at Irwindale was solemnized on Sunday, when Miss Luisa Fraijo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abel Fraijo of Irwindale, became the bride of Antonio Silva, also of Irwindale. The ceremony was performed in the Presbyterian church by Rev. Raymon Lopez Y. Lopez, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The bride was attended by Miss Frances Fraijo, as maid of honor, and Miss Verna Fraijo, Mrs. Reyes Breda and Mrs. Everett Humphrey as bridesmaids. Attending the groom were Alessandro Fraijo, Reyes Breda, Jesse Breda and Everett Humphrey.

Following the ceremony a breakfast was served to fifty guests at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. Silva is employed in the Baldwin Park Department store and has furnished a home for his bride on Irwindale avenue, which they will occupy upon their return from Lake Arrowhead, where they are spending their honeymoon.

NEW DUPLEX COMPLETED ON WEST CENTER STREET

Miss Mary Motter has just completed an attractive duplex on West Center street. Miss Motter has avoided the usual lines of architecture used in duplex houses, breaking the front line with an ell. The interior plans are very complete for small families, each side having living room, kitchen and breakfast nook, hall, bedroom and back screen porch. Hardwood floors prevail throughout, each living room having an open fireplace. The west side has been furnished by Miss Motter. Mr. and Mrs. Victor Martins will occupy the east duplex.

Miss Motter is secretary at the high school. This is her first venture in the business world, and she is following her preference for investment in real estate. Miss Motter has built for rentals and does not expect to place the property on the market.

High Dam Plans for San Gabriel Ready for Board

Plans are ready for a dam in the San Gabriel canyon to be 425 feet high, 2,200 feet long, 407 feet thick at base and 30 feet at the top, according to a statement this week by Chief Engineer E. C. Eaton, in charge of all flood control work for the Los Angeles county flood control district.

These plans, which were ordered made by the board of supervisors, are to be submitted this week to the consulting board of engineers employed by the district, composed of D. C. Henry of Seattle, J. B. Lippincott of Los Angeles and J. W. Reagan of Long Beach. Up until this time no plans for what is commonly known as the "high dam" had been drawn, it was learned.

If the board of supervisors carries out its present program, the "high dam" plans will be adopted after approval by the consulting board, and bids will be advertised for, although it is declared that organizations of taxpayers in Los Angeles and the Los Angeles chamber of commerce is still opposed to these plans, and have served notice that they will contest their adoption.

The preliminary writ of mandamus, now before the appellate court, ordering the board of supervisors to show cause why they should not proceed to build the "high dam," is held in abeyance until September 13, through a suggestion of the court that the board of supervisors and protestants in the lower San Gabriel basin get together in the meantime and come to some workable understanding.

Meanwhile the flood control district is in a position where it has two complete sets of plans and specifications for the San Gabriel dam. The so-called "low dam" plans call for a dam 385 feet high, 2,200 feet long, 360 feet thick at base and 30 feet thick at the top. This is the dam that the Los Angeles organizations believe is the most economical.

At the same time declaring that engineering investigation has proved it to be adequate for flood control and conservation. It is claimed that the low dam can be built within the appropriation of $25,000,000, and that the high dam will exceed this amount. Chief Engineer Eaton said this week that he is fully prepared to go ahead with either set of plans.

It was strongly intimated by county officials this week that the board may go ahead with the advertising for bids without waiting for the disposition of the case now before the court, and that there is a possibility of an award of contract in time for work to begin in the canyon this year, providing that opponents of the high dam do not find a method of holding up the procedure.

CHILDREN'S PHYSICIAN RETURNING TO AZUSA

Robert M. Dodsworth, Ph. B. M. D., is this week announcing the opening of offices to practice medicine in the Griffith block, rooms 4 and 5, Azusa. Dr. Dodsworth will be remembered as a specialist in children's diseases, and is well known to many families throughout this valley. He has been engaged in this specialization for twenty-five years, coming to the coast after graduation from Yale medical school. His professional card appears in this issue.

West Covina Girl Marries Ontario Business Man

A pretty home wedding at 9 o'clock Tuesday evening, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Yarnell of West Covina, united in marriage their daughter, Boush, and Mr. Ray Wm. Scott of Ontario. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Daniel Dundas, pastor of the Community church of Baldwin Park, in the presence of forty-five guests. Flowers in pastel shades formed the decorations, with a silver bell suspended from an arch of ferns for the altar.

The bride was beautiful in a gown of white beaded georgette, with a tulle veil held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley, bride's roses and fern. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Marjorie Yarnell, as maid of honor, wearing a becoming dress of blue tulle, and carrying rose buds and sweet peas. The flower girl, Cecile, dainty in pink organdie, and the little ring bearer, Arthur Berg, in a white suit, are niece and nephew of the bride.

William Kurash, violinist, of Baldwin Park played two numbers preceding the ceremony, "At Dawning" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Miss Myrtle Jones. Miss Jones also played the wedding march from Lohengrin.

Following the ceremony and the reception, the bride couple started on a motor trip to the northern part of the state. They will reside in Ontario, where Mr. Scott is a popular young business man.

The bride has a host of friends in the community and also in Baldwin Park, where she held a position in the First National Bank for several years.

STEEL DESK FIRM INSTALLS PLANT IN HEART OF VALLEY

Machinery of the peculiar type necessary for the manufacture of steel furniture and a heavy electric power load for operation are being installed this week in the new brick and concrete factory in the heart of the San Gabriel river area, south of Azusa and northeast of Baldwin Park.

This factory, which is one of two already built on the 160 acres of the Keeney Grove, is to manufacture a specially designed metal office desk, and various types of office furniture. The work has been going on quietly for some months, under the direction of Carl S. Newcomer of Pasadena, Harry A. Ward, and Donald C. Barbee, the latter a principal owner in one of the largest metal furniture companies in the east. The new company has been financed principally through members of the firm, it is understood, as it was the intention to keep the company largely within their own hands. Mr. Newcomer, who is president, is one of the large real estate operators of Pasadena, and he said last week that several men possessing patents and knowledge of the business were associated with them. The firm is known as the Steel Furniture Manufacturing company.

ON ARROW HIGHWAY
The commercial center of Keeney Grove will lie along Irwindale boulevard and Bonita avenue, the latter street being a part of the route of the new Arrow highway, which is virtually all signed up at the present time, with good indications that work will start on this big east and west artery before the end of the year. Besides the factories already built, there are several more to be started during the coming year, according to E. K. Albright, owner's agent. The tract will afford opportunity for something like 500 residence lots. The plan calls for a compact, modern industrial city. Several fine residences are already built or in process of building on the tract, with a comprehensive system of road improvement in progress. The industrial area is on a spur line built from Baldwin Park, connecting with the Pacific Electric railroad. Another factory in the vicinity is that of Bligham T. Wilson, inventor of orchard tools.

Timmons Home Nearly Finished

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Timmons expect to move into their new home on Puente street, completed and to occupy it about the first of September. The interior decorators are just putting the finishing touches on the walls, the soft tones giving a pleasing effect.

Barrel ceilings, with gum finish for the woodwork and jazz for the walls, mark the attractive living room and dining room. A den, looking toward the San Jose hills, is situated at the northeast corner of the house. A fireplace occupies the north end of the dining room, and a plain open grate spells comfort for the den. The tile sink in the kitchen is white, with a dark border, relieved by an occasional fancy tile in waterily pattern on the side wall.

Between the two spacious bedrooms is a bath with tile floor and every convenience for comfort. The tones of the bedroom walls, one in pink and the other in blue, are softened by hand-painted borders. There is a distinctive charm about this house which will, no doubt, be enhanced by the draperies and well chosen furniture.

DRUGGIST CRITICALLY ILL AT HIS COVINA HOME

The West Covina friends of W. W. Nash of West Covina boulevard, a well known druggist of this valley, who has been in ill health for many months, will regret to learn that his present condition is most critical and that his physicians offer little hopes for his recovery. During the past week, on account of the character of his trouble, he has remained in a semi-conscious condition.

Miss Ethel McNelley, bookkeeper at the San Gabriel Milling company, is enjoying a vacation. She is spending a part of this week at San Diego. Mr. E. C. Stoltz of Arroyo Drive has been awarded the contract for the construction of the Arrow highway through the city of Claremont.

NOTICE!

TO THE USERS OF ICE IN BALDWIN PARK AND VICINITY:

The Orange Belt Ice company of Covina is no longer represented in the Baldwin Park territory, owing to the fact that our former representative, S. A. Bennett, has severed connection with us, and is buying ice of the San Antonio Ice company, which is in reality the Pasadena Ice company.

As an explanation to the public we wish to say that Mr. Bennett was set up in business by us in the Baldwin Park territory, and was furnished with a new Ford truck at a cost of fifty cents per day, in order to help him to establish a business. Up until recently he bought ice from us, but we have no affiliation with Mr. Bennett at the present time. The Baldwin Park Ice company, supposed to be a competitor of Mr. Bennett, also buys ice of the Pasadena Ice company, so that the Baldwin Park users cannot be said to be benefiting from a competing business. The reason for Mr. Bennett's change from the Orange Belt Ice company to the Pasadena Ice company was said to be because he could get ice fifty cents per ton cheaper, but this does not seem to be any benefit to the consumers, as we understand the prices to consumers are the same as before.

The Orange Belt Ice company of Covina will not be represented in Baldwin Park until next season, when we intend to go into the territory on a strict basis of honest business. Those who believe in a square deal will appreciate the necessity for the announcement.

AGED PIONEER KILLED BY TRAIN AT AZUSA

Isaac Carter, a resident of Azusa for the past 34 years, was accidentally killed at one o'clock last Friday while crossing the Santa Fe tracks to get his daily paper. It is said that the wigwag was going at the time and the engineer blew his whistle, but the aged man, who was in his eighty-fifth year, and had defective eyesight and hearing, did not seem to hear or sense the danger. He lived alone, his wife having died seven years ago.

Deceased was born in Mayfield, Kentucky, in 1842 and from there moved to Texas, becoming one of the early pioneers of that state. He later went to Illinois, where he married Miss Adema Jeffries. Mr. Carter was for several terms sheriff of Randolph county, Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter came to California in 1891, settling in Los Angeles when a little while later they moved to Azusa, where they owned property at Sixth and Broadway. Two years later they took up their residence in Azusa.

The children surviving are Mrs. Alice Wade, Mrs. Blanche Walsh, Orris, Irven and Charles Carter, all of Azusa, Ray Carter of Charter Oak and Marshall Carter of Long Beach. There are also a large number of grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Mr. Carter had been an Odd Fellow for fifty years and that fraternity had charge of the services, which was held in the Christian church of Azusa, of which he was a member. Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Olney Has Serious Accident With Revolver

A sad accident occurred last Thursday evening about seven o'clock, when Mrs. George Olney discharged a 45-calibre Colt's revolver, the bullet entering the lower apex of the lung and passing out at the shoulder blade. Dr. Reed was called immediately and the patient taken to the Covina hospital. Although the lung collapsed from the effect of the shot, Mrs. Olney is making a brave struggle to live and her complete recovery is hoped for.

The revolver was lying on the bed, where it had been placed by the son, and was picked up by the mother. Mr. Olney and the two boys were sitting on the front porch at the time of the discharge.

Mrs. Olney returned a few months ago from the east, where she had taken special training in hydro-therapy, and was working as a nurse in the Methodist hospital. Her son had met her that evening in Covina at the Pacific Electric car.

Early Days in Covina

TEN YEARS AGO

Dr. J. D. Reed and son, Jimmie, and Eugene Ames started Wednesday by auto to Yosemite valley and Lake Tahoe.

Girding of trees in Charter Oak district, caused by an unusual number of rats, has been discovered by James Taylor, owner of a grove in that district. Mr. Taylor put in a call Wednesday for all available men at a Japanese camp to form a poison squad.

A Chinaman was severely injured on the J. V. Elliott ranch yesterday morning by a runaway team. The man was taken to the California hospital by Mr. Elliott.

Necessity for fumigation remains same as in previous seasons. Time for fumigation is month earlier than usual, but scale is present everywhere. A rancher who is short of funds will do better to borrow money at a very high rate of interest than to allow his grove to go without fumigation.

Early Monday morning at the Methodist parsonage, the marriage of George A. Daniels and Miss Hazel Mayer of Elsinore was consummated. Rev. S. J. McConnell officiating. A reception will be tendered them Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Daniels.

Ellen Beach Yow is spending two weeks at Foresta in the Yosemite valley. While there she will appear on a chautauqua program with David Starr Jordan and other prominent people of the music and lecture stage.

K. Kangi, a young Japanese engaged in hog raising between El Monte and Baldwin Park, shot and killed his wife last Friday morning as she stood in the door of their little hovel and then turned the gun on himself. The trouble arose over the woman objecting to live with him in the filth of this pigsty, where over 20,000 hogs are being raised on garbage. She had decided to apply for a divorce. Both bodies were cremated. The Japanese were both wealthy and influential families, and the tragedies brought a number of well known Japanese of Los Angeles to the inquest.

Mrs. Sarah Maxfield, residing on Orange street, received the sad news last Sunday through the Travelers' Aid that her sister Miss Minnie Vickrick, had died suddenly on Saturday in a hospital at Vancouver. Miss Vickrick had visited Mrs. Maxfield and another sister in Los Angeles for several months and was on the way to her home in the province of Manitoba. She was not in good health and had come to the states for treatment. She was in her seventy-fifth year.

The Travelers' Aid also rendered the aged lady assistance at the border line, where it seems they were unwilling to let her pass, as she was ill. At this time communication with her relatives was had through the local representative of the Travelers' Aid, Mrs. H. L. Hostetler, Mrs. Vickrick remaining in Seattle until this was straightened out.

A nephew from Los Angeles went north to take charge of the remains.

DALTON WASH IS BEING CLEANED OUT AND WIDENED

The Dalton wash, which has long been a source of anxiety to the ranch owners having land adjoining, is being cleaned out and widened at the corner of Cypress avenue and Irwindale avenue. This will insure ample runoff for flood waters.

Tom Mix Takes Role of Ranger in New Picture

Tom Mix in "The Outlaws of Red River," his latest starring drama for Fox films, will be the main attraction offered at the Covina theater tonight (Friday) and tomorrow night. Mix, as the Phantom Falcon of the Texas Rangers, disguises himself as a bandit and holds up a stage coach so that he may get into the lair of the bandits. He played the role so well that the real robbers formed a merger and took him into their own gang to end competition. But in the end he cleans up the gang and saves the heroine. Mix's picture always holds thrills from start to finish.

On the same bill will appear the first of a wild horse serial picture called "The Golden Stallion," featuring "White Fury," a genuine untamed wild horse. The cast includes Maurice (Lefty) Flynn, Molly Malone, Joseph Swickard, Burr McIntosh and others.

"Whispering Wives," based on the stage play of the same name, comes to the theater on Sunday and Monday, featuring Frank Campeau, the famous villain of the screen. The story centers about a murder committed by telephone in a mysterious mansion. Associated with Campeau are Anita Stewart, Edmund Burns and others.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday Fred Thompson and his famous horse, Silver King, in "Silver Comes Through," will be the attraction.

TAKING THE JOY OUT OF LIFE

To be efficient is to do all things well, and at the same time to get your portion of pleasure out of life.

Efficiency does not take the joy out of life, but quite the contrary, it will enable you to save regularly and make life worth living in your declining years.

Spray Right OR NOT AT ALL

Mr. Citrus Grower: During the next few months you are going to have to control the scale and spider pests. If your trees are awful dirty, spray or fumigate early. If, however, you can wait until September, you can control these pests with one application of Peerless Spray and not have to worry about either until next summer.

Prof. Woglum shows in his chart on page 24, Handbook on Citrus Insect Control for 1927, that Peerless Spray used from the middle of September on controlled Red Spider until the following June. He says on page 9 that this material was used from July until January with no apparent injury to bloom. We used it in the bloom and got good crops. What do you know about that?

Mr. Grower—Do you know that the PERRICURE system of scaly bark treatment is recognized as the most thorough treatment for that disease? One hour investigating it will convince anyone.

Turning Citrus Losses Into Citrus Returns!

The California Fruit Growers Exchange develops outlets for all the fruit raised by its 11,000 grower-members

ONLY a few years ago, California citrus growers were compelled to dump their cull fruit and pay a dumping charge ranging from $1.25 to $2.00 per ton. Now Exchange growers realize a return from every ton of culls, and save the dumping charge.

The successful development of the Exchange Orange Products Co., and the Exchange Lemon Products Co., is solving the irritating problems of cull citrus fruit.

From unmerchantable oranges are made concentrated orange juice, orange oil, and dairy feed. From cull lemons come citric acid, citrate of lime, lemon oil and citrus pectin. Last year 3,000 carloads of unsalable lemons were handled through the products plant.

And the withdrawal of this lower grade fruit from the fresh fruit market was of far-reaching importance in preventing shipment losses and in maintaining the quality reputation of California lemons.

Years of research were required to determine the correct processes for the salvaging of this fruit. But these experiments have already been the means of saving Exchange members hundreds of thousands of dollars. Growers joining the Exchange now will profit fully from this past experimental work. They will realize a return from their culls in the future.

The distributing channels of the Exchange are increasing the outlets and the demand for these by-products every season. Last year Austria, Japan and Sweden were added to the world markets now reached by these products from California.

In developing by-products, as in other departments of its work, the California Fruit Growers Exchange renders a service to citrus growers that goes far beyond that of any other citrus marketing organization.

No unnecessary profits or costs are paid from Exchange returns. The organization itself makes no profit. Every cent above the actual operating cost (2.48 cents per $1.00 of sales, last year) is returned to the growers. The total cost of all Exchange service is less than the sales expense alone of any other agency.

So the growers who market their fruit through the Exchange average higher net returns over any period of years, than the minority who dispose of their crops through other channels.

Ask your neighbors who market through the Exchange how they value its services. Talk to the manager of the nearest Exchange association. Or write now for further information to California Fruit Growers Exchange, Box 530, Station "C," Los Angeles.

A. E. Harnish & Son Are Showing New Chandlers

Special Six-Five Passenger Sedan

Each year the automobile manufacturers present something different in the way of body styles, color and interior finish and mechanical units, and incorporate particular innovations which will make their car characteristic. For 1928 the Chandler-Cleveland Motors corporation are offering the motorists of Covina, through A. E. Harnish and Son, the most astounding value they have ever produced—the new Chandler.

The 1928 Chandler offering is composed of a complete line of six and eight cylinder cars—ten types of sedans, ten different coupes, three roadsters, and six sport touring cars, with prices ranging from nine hundred and fifty-five to twenty-two hundred dollars.

With the announcement of new body styles and additional refinements, Chandler, due to increased production, has been able to lower the prices of some models as much as two hundred dollars. This reduction gives the buying public the greatest dollar for dollar value that has ever been known in Chandler's successful history.

The royal eight models are lowered two hundred dollars in price and the two popular big six sedans have been lowered one hundred dollars, with the addition of the royal six sedan.

With this price drop Chandler offers additional refinements and equipment such as an all-metal trunk on the metropolitan deluxe sedan, twin-beam head lights, a better grade of silk mohair upholstery, and many other conveniences for the motorist.

The Pike Peak motor has been retained in all the models with additional refinements, which have given this famous power plant greater power with increased smoothness. A Chandler owner never need worry about the spark control, since all Pike Peak motors have an automatic spark advance, and the majority of hills may be climbed with ease in high gear, which eliminates the annoyance of shifting gears frequently.

The greatest friend of the car owner today—namely, the one-shot system of automatic chassis lubrication—has been retained by Chandler on all models as standard equipment. This system has eliminated the oil can and grease gun and has made the lubrication of an automobile, which is the life blood of a car, a pleasure instead of a drudge. This system may be used either when the car owner is standing in his garage or when he is traveling along the highway; and it gives positive lubrication to all moving parts of the chassis.

Riverside Fair Will Open on September 27th

Directors of the newly formed agricultural district, having received their commissions from Governor Young, have taken up their duties as executive committee of the fifteenth annual Southern California fair, to be held in Riverside, September 27th to October 2nd.

Due to an appropriation for the fair authorized by the last legislature, the organization of the committee had to be changed somewhat, with directors of the agricultural district in charge of the fair.

The fair dates have been arranged this year so that there is no conflict with any other exhibition in Southern California.

Announcement is expected to be made within a few days of the complete program, which will include, probably, several features that heretofore have not been included in the fair program. An effort is being made to have several persons of information interest present at least one day during the fair.

Extensive repairs and improvements have been made on the fair grounds, which will give the exhibition the finest setting it has as yet enjoyed.

Sham Battle to Enliven Show in Orange County

"Going over the top," a term usually associated with fund raising campaigns, is being applied near Santa Ana in its literal, overseas sense.

With Company F, 160th Infantry, scheduled to shoot out a sham battle in the Orange county fair, September 1 to 10, the organization, under command of Captain Donald L. Winans, engages several evenings each week in actual battle practice.

Hundreds of rounds of ammunition are to be exchanged, and howitzers, trench mortars, and machine guns, according to the plan, are to be used in the firing. The sham battle was incorporated with the fair idea as a move to stimulate interest in world peace by drawing attention to the horrors of warfare.

Aside from the sham battle, the fair management plans to include a rodeo, horse show and special Scouts' night program in the entertainment. The rodeo livestock will be furnished by the Baker ranch of Sanguis, and the event will be directed by Bob Anderson, superintendent of the same ranch. Already the horse show has entries from nearly every important stable in Southern California.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT FOR EDISON COMPANY

The Southern California Edison company has exchanged superintendents with the Whittier district, Mr. H. D. Packard taking the place of Mr. McClure. Mr. Packard assumed his duties on last Monday the 15th. He and his family, consisting of a wife and daughter, will reside at the McClure court.

BUSTER GENTRY HIT BY CAR IN CROSSING STREET

Buster Gentry, the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Gentry, was hit by a Ford roadster on Tuesday morning as he was attempting to cross the street in front of the grammar school. Walter B. Kirk of Arcadia, the driver, saw the lad and swerved the car in an attempt to miss him. Just at this time the boy made a turn to go back to the sidewalk, running in front of the car. He was taken to the hospital and was found to have a broken ankle.

Is It to Be Hoover?

Editorial comment over the United States, as shown by the Literary Digest, points to Hoover as first choice for Republican nominee for president in 1928. Favorite sons from a dozen states are put forward, as is the usual method in establishing a political clearinghouse, but Hoover looms large everywhere.

This does not mean that he can be easily nominated. The best man has not always been selected in the past. More nominees have been chosen as the result of compromises than from spontaneous choice, and if Hoover is chosen, it will only come after a struggle of the titans of politics, in the opinion of many editorial commentators. Running through the comment from all parts of the country is the admission that he would give the country the kind of leadership it needs at this time, that of expansion in public and private work, and would begin his administration with a prestige abroad not possessed by any other American that can be named as presidential timber.

Practical Americans everywhere should get behind Hoover. The country needs a leader capable of intelligently pushing forward a program of river control, development of public domain, coast-to-coast highways, railroad consolidation, merchant marine, cooperative marketing for the food raiser. Hoover stands high on the continent, where his direction of war relief is remembered; and where his administration of commerce in two cabinets is known and appreciated. Hoover is an engineer. He knows little about politics, and if left to his own devices would probably be speedily eliminated by the political manipulators. But he could be nominated and elected if the people insist on it. He seems peculiarly fitted for this particular era when intellectual expansion is needed. He is not of the spectacular type, and will not appeal to the superficial. He knows little of political trading, but is a genius in organization.

It is declared that the Pacific states will back his nomination, and that the middle west feels his leadership is needed. It seems like an excellent opportunity to choose a real business leader, one best fitted to build on the confidence that has been brought about by the Coolidge administration. We began this country with a president who was an engineer first and a military leader afterward. The problems of this country are engineering problems now as never before. With Hoover we have an opportunity to over-ride sectional preference and politics of the usual and depressing type, and launch a real era of expansion in keeping with our colossal resources.

Soldier and Friend-Maker

Genial Phil Dodson of South Pasadena will lead the California world-war veterans to Paris this fall, and no better type of American could have been selected to engender the biggest amount of good will. He is a friend-maker by nature, and a diplomat of the most effective kind.

When Phil Dodson went into the war as a private he left a law practice behind him, and forgot the world of commercialism until the war was over, just as did many thousands of his comrades. His integrity and ability brought him a first lieutenantcy, and his natural friend-making qualities made it inevitable that he should share prominently in the organizing of the men for peace when the armistice was signed. He began early to frequent the councils of the newly-formed American Legion, and for all the years since the war has been an executive in this organization. At Santa Barbara this year the Legion elected him as state commander.

Phil Dodson has made good in all of his activities, while at the same time remaining modest and democratic. He resigned as mayor of South Pasadena when that city voted to place its trustees on salary, because he wanted to continue his activities in the Legion. The Legion prohibits the election to office of any man in their organization who is holding a paid political office. In the San Gabriel valley Dodson has a veritable army of friends, as is the case throughout the state. The California delegation to Paris ought to make an enviable showing under his guidance.

The Division of Markets

California now has a commission merchant law and a new market director, or rather chief of the division of markets as the position is now officially known, whose duty it is to enforce the provisions of this law and correct some of the evils connected with the marketing of farm produce prevailing before the existence of this law.

The office of the chief of the division of markets is located in Sacramento, as it properly should be, because it is under the jurisdiction of the state department of agriculture. However, the bulk of the regulatory work required under the commission merchant's act occurs in the two big market centers of the state—San Francisco and Los Angeles. San Francisco is well provided for in this respect with an assistant market director in the person of Wm. W. Bedford, but so far no provision has been made to care for the enforcement of the law in Southern California where probably more farm produce is handled locally than in the remainder of the state. Those having grievances or disputes to adjust here must, under the present system, take their troubles either to the San Francisco office or to Sacramento headquarters.

While we are opposed to needless or unnecessary expenditures of public funds, we believe that since we have this new law on the statute books, every provision should be made to make it of real benefit to those it is designed to aid and this certainly calls for closer contact with the division of markets than is possible for our southern farmers at the present time. We need an assistant chief of the division of markets with headquarters located in Los Angeles.—California Cultivator.

Clubwomen Hear of Boys' School at Club Dinner

With leaders of all organizations of women in the territory reaching from Monrovia to Claremont present as specially invited guests, Covina Rotary club entertained at a dinner last Friday night at Mountain Meadows country club, with Col. C. M. Wood of the California Preparatory School for Boys as principal speaker.

The affair was presided over by J. D. Coles, cashier of the First National Bank of Covina, and Miss Francis White sang a number of very acceptable numbers, accompanied at piano by Mrs. Henry Dawerel. The tables were set in a hollow square, and an excellent six-course dinner was served in the creditable style for which this country club has come to be noted.

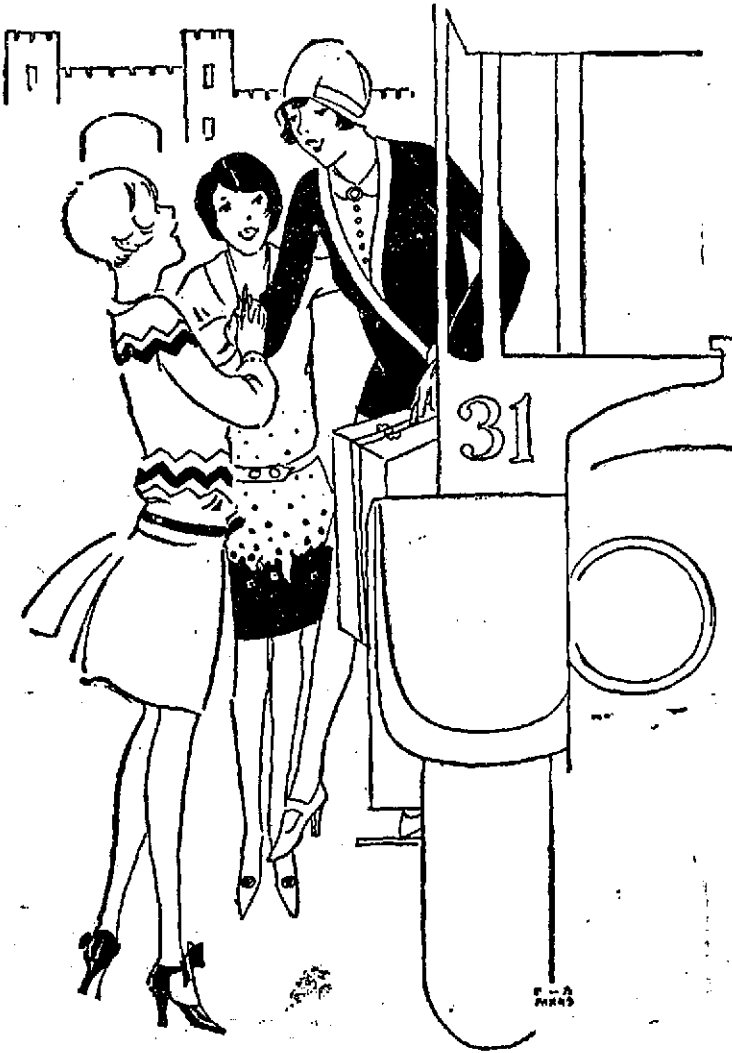

Col. Wood's talk dealt with the progress of the private school of which he is superintendent, and which was first founded in Pasadena by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Henry of that city, moving two years ago to a beautiful mesa south of Covina, where $250,000 has been expended in a group of fine buildings. The school, he declared, is accredited by University of California, Stanford, and by the leading educational institutions of the Pacific coast. It is non-military, but makes every effort to develop the student in physical posture, athletics, obedience and self reliance. Principal Frank L. Smith also made an address in which he announced that Mr. and Mrs. Henry were contemplating an expansion of the school to that of a junior college course.

The women guests were given the opportunity of realizing that one of the finest private schools on the coast has become thoroughly established at a central point in the southern tier of counties, and that it is to be a distinct asset to the state as an educational asset. The grounds of the school are undergoing a complete plan of beautification, it was learned, and a new highway, to be known as Holt avenue, is soon to be under construction past the school, running from Holt avenue in Pomona westward and south of Covina to a junction with Garvey avenue, south of Alhambra.

ONE MAN KILLED, ONE INJURED IN ACCIDENT

A head-on collision at 6 o'clock last Monday morning, about two miles west of Baldwin Park, instantly killed Daniel Tobin of Vineland, the driver of a Dodge coupe. In the other car was J. Madearis, foreman at Puddingstone, who escaped with facial injury, and Del Traeger, brother of Sheriff Traeger, who escaped uninjured. It is said that a heavy fog was the cause of the accident.
